

C. M. SCHWAB TAKES PARTY TO WATER GAP

Rumor of Great New Hotel Springs Up After Visit to District.

WALKING CLUB FORMED

DELAWARE WATER GAP, July 17.—The rapid growth of Delaware Water Gap as a summer resort is called to mind each year as the gala season holds sway. Never has this gain been more spectacular and impressive than at the present time. The visit of Charles M. Schwab with a party has started a new rumor of another great hotel here.

Any one who thinks dancing has fallen off, as some have been heard to say, should visit the Water Gap House any evening this week. The splendid ballroom where a beautifully groomed assemblage of graceful women and their attentive partners are dancing. During the week the dances have all been well attended, among those on the floor being E. R. Kennedy, Miss Helen Quinn, Miss Dorothy Quinn, of New York; Miss Castle Thomas, of Philadelphia; and Miss Helen Cope and Miss Charlotte Watt of Atlantic City. The card party this week was also a decided success, prizes being won by Miss Helen Quinn, Miss Dorothy Quinn, of New York; Miss Castle Thomas, of Philadelphia; and Miss Helen Cope and Miss Charlotte Watt of Atlantic City.

As has been the custom for several seasons past, the Pennsylvania State Lumbermen's Association visited the Water Gap this week, stopping at the Kittinghams Hotel. A dinner for which 200 places were laid figured in the entertainment.

The fans at the Glenwood are beginning to pat each other on the back and strut around in evident anticipation of easy victories from now on, and all because H. R. Plummer and William W. Evans of Philadelphia have arrived for the summer and assumed their old time responsibilities as the star battery of the Glenwood team. In addition, Mr. Kavanagh and Louis Zimmerman, both of Brooklyn, are here to strengthen the team in the field.

The bridge whist party at the Glenwood this week was the largest held this season. There were four prize winners, Mrs. J. W. Flickinger and Mrs. W. D. Wolfel of New York and Mrs. R. C. McCann and Mrs. M. Manchester of Brooklyn. Others who took part were Mrs. W. E. Cook of Philadelphia, Mrs. L. S. Stiles of Brooklyn and the Misses Murphy of New York.

The members of St. Peter's choir, one of the largest organizations in Scranton, passed a few days here this week. They have been coming for years to the Castle Inn. The church given in music hall and in the church auditoriums were of the highest order.

The concrete lawn tennis court at the Cataract House has found another opportunity to test its superiority over the skin courts. At the tournament at the house this week several real experts took a hand, among them being the Buchanan brothers of New York, whose rapid play was a revelation. The result of the mixed doubles match was a victory for Miss Edith Watters of Brooklyn and Herman L. Buchanan of New York against Mrs. A. R. Kent and Nat H. Buchanan, with a score of 6-4, 5-6, 6-4. In the men's singles George F. Ficker of New York won out from Ward B. Buchanan, the score being 6-3, 6-4, 6-3.

The Central House is the headquarters of a brand new organization and one which will do much to promote the enjoyment of the most beneficial pastime of the region, hiking and mountain climbing. It is called the Hikers' Club and invites to its membership all who are fond of this form of exercise, finding its principal usefulness in the fact that it is much more enjoyable to go out tramping in a body than as separate individuals. Its pioneer members are all summer visitors at the Central and include Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Foster, Mrs. Sophie Fetter, Miss Ruth Dessler, Miss Ida Greenberg, all of New York; Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Thum of Brooklyn; J. C. Huff, Miss H. V. Huff, P. M. Sykes, Dr. and Mrs. B. Mayor and Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Smith, all of Philadelphia.

Residents and summerers along the route from the Bellevue to Bushkill Falls were startled by the merry whoops of a band of sightseers in a big touring car. It was found that the party were summer visitors at the Bellevue on a ride to the Falls. In the party were Miss Catherine Flynn, Miss A. M. McQueen, Miss Lorraine V. Privitt, Miss May Prescott, Miss M. M. McCall, of New York; Miss Menerva Tacke, Miss Evangeline M. Howard, of Brooklyn; Miss Edna M. Cox, Miss Mary Boehm, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Miller, David L. Vigne, Frank A. Wickham and Herman S. Moore, all of Philadelphia; E. Cooke and Miss V. G. Beach of Jersey City and Miss Irene Conway of East Orange.

MT. POCONO GETS THE SPORT CROWD

Resort Association Brings Hotels in Close Touch for Entertainments.

RIDING PARTIES POPULAR

MT. POCONO, Pa., July 17.—The efforts of the Resort Association here to bring the various houses in close touch along the line of social entertainment and outdoor sports has borne fruit in the organization of an athletic association which is promising much in the line of tournaments and games during the coming weeks. Entries are coming in for the tennis and golf tournaments and the list shows the names of some crack players in both departments.

The success of these affairs last year was due in great measure to the able management of the events, and it is assuming to know that the committee has as its members almost all of the men who acted last summer. The doings of the tennis and golf tournaments and the list shows the names of some crack players in both departments.

STROUDSBURG, PA.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., July 17.—An evening at cards was passed by the summer visitors at the Highland Inn last Tuesday, progressive 500 and progressive euchre being the games played. Prizes were won by F. de Malignon of New York and Mrs. C. H. Palmer and Mrs. William S. Roe of Newark, N. J.

G. E. Reynolds and family of East Orange, N. J., are here at the Churleigh Inn for a long stay. Mr. Reynolds will be remembered by many as the one time tennis champion of New Jersey, and his addition to the list of players at the Churleigh Inn means a big chance for the championship of the resort.

The big barn dance was the biggest event of the week at the Highland Inn. The management of the affair was in capable hands and by the time the occasion was scheduled everything had been done to insure its success. The old red barn was cleared and decorated in picturesque fashion. Those who won prizes were H. Flesher of New York, Mrs. Benson of New York, Mrs. R. Hill of Brooklyn, Miss Frances Meyer of Philadelphia and Miss Ella Kerner of New York.

The entire affair was given jointly by the Pennilyn and the Churleigh Inn will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to see it. The exhibition of modern dancing by Miss Sarah Stahl, Oshaus and Newman, all of New York, was a revelation of the possibilities of the art.

Rogers Brown of New York is here for several weeks with his mother and is staying at the Berwick Inn. Mrs. W. A. Rouse of New York, who is a summer visitor at the Maple in the Pines, won the prize for the best held at the house this week.
